

Delica trays

A tray made of natural wood, layered and pressed, which seeks to bring people into contact with the most natural of objects.
This product combines ergonomics with poetics, and its respect for form reflects a non-interventionist humility of approach.

Ameba collection

Ameba is a collection of bases that allow optimal mobility of any object placed on them, using the slightest of movements.
Its different sizes determine their uses: plate chargers, placemats or coasters.

Lorea fruit basket

There wouldn't be any fruit without flowers...
Lorea is a form of origami that reflects upon this natural act in order to create a fruit basket.
Lorea sways from side to side, offering up its contents.

Mö tray

Its vocation to serve, the sensuality of its wavy profile, both the even and the textured finishes, the natural warmth of wood, its calm presence, all together make of the Mö Tray the ideal accessory at home, putting together modernity and tradition.
