

ILLUSIO

A porcelain plate designed by Guy Buseyne and made according to traditional methods in the Studio Pieter Stockmans.

Working with porcelain is very delicate and it requires time, patience, experience and especially know-how. The pure line, modern design and size of this plate do not make the production an easy task. The strong will of porcelain, the shrinking process and the high baking temperature (1400° C) results in every piece being unique.
